

A close-up photograph of two glass cups filled with ice cream. The cup in the foreground is filled with a vibrant pink ice cream, likely strawberry or raspberry, and is topped with a large, rounded scoop. The cup in the background is filled with a creamy vanilla ice cream, also topped with a large scoop. A vertical, semi-transparent grey bar runs down the right side of the image, partially obscuring the pink ice cream. The background is a soft, out-of-focus white surface.
